Your shelves called.
ART's already on it.

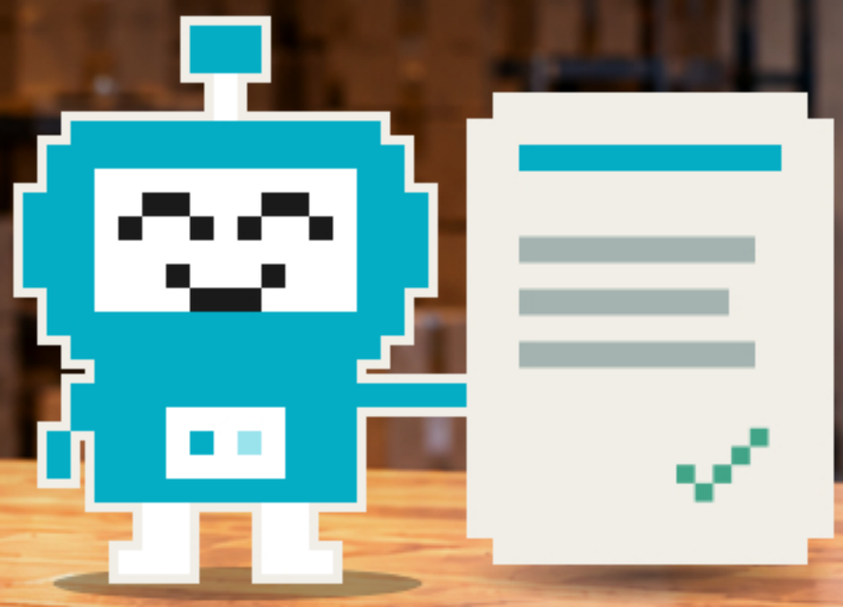

Low stock spotted. Reorder handled.
One less thing for your team to chase.

Stock updated

Low stock.
Next order, handled.

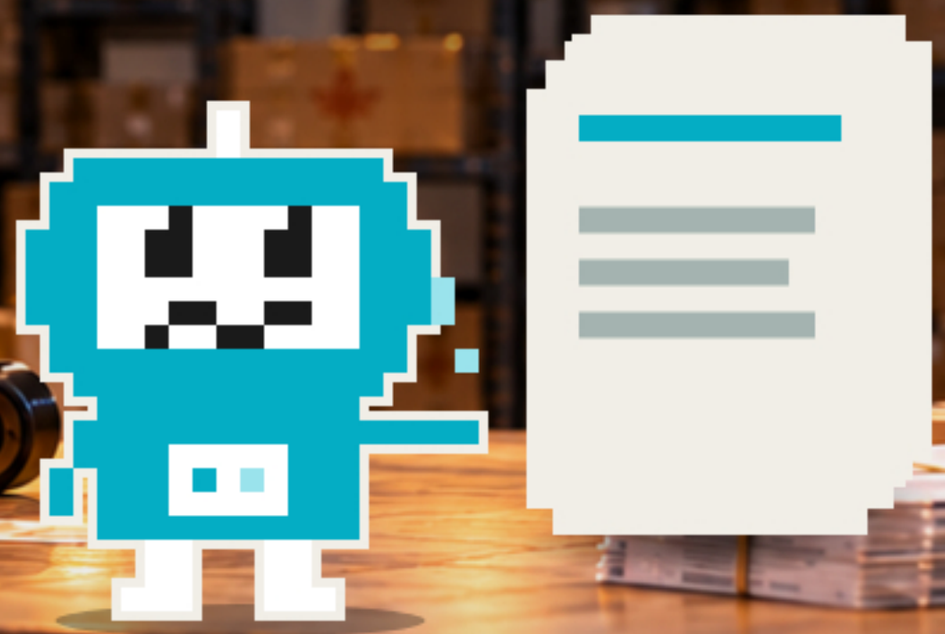

ART reorders within your limits.
Set the stock rules once. ART handles the next step.

Stop chasing stock.

Manual checks. Late orders.
Avoidable shortages.

By the time someone notices,
the shelf can already be empty.

ART spots what's running low.

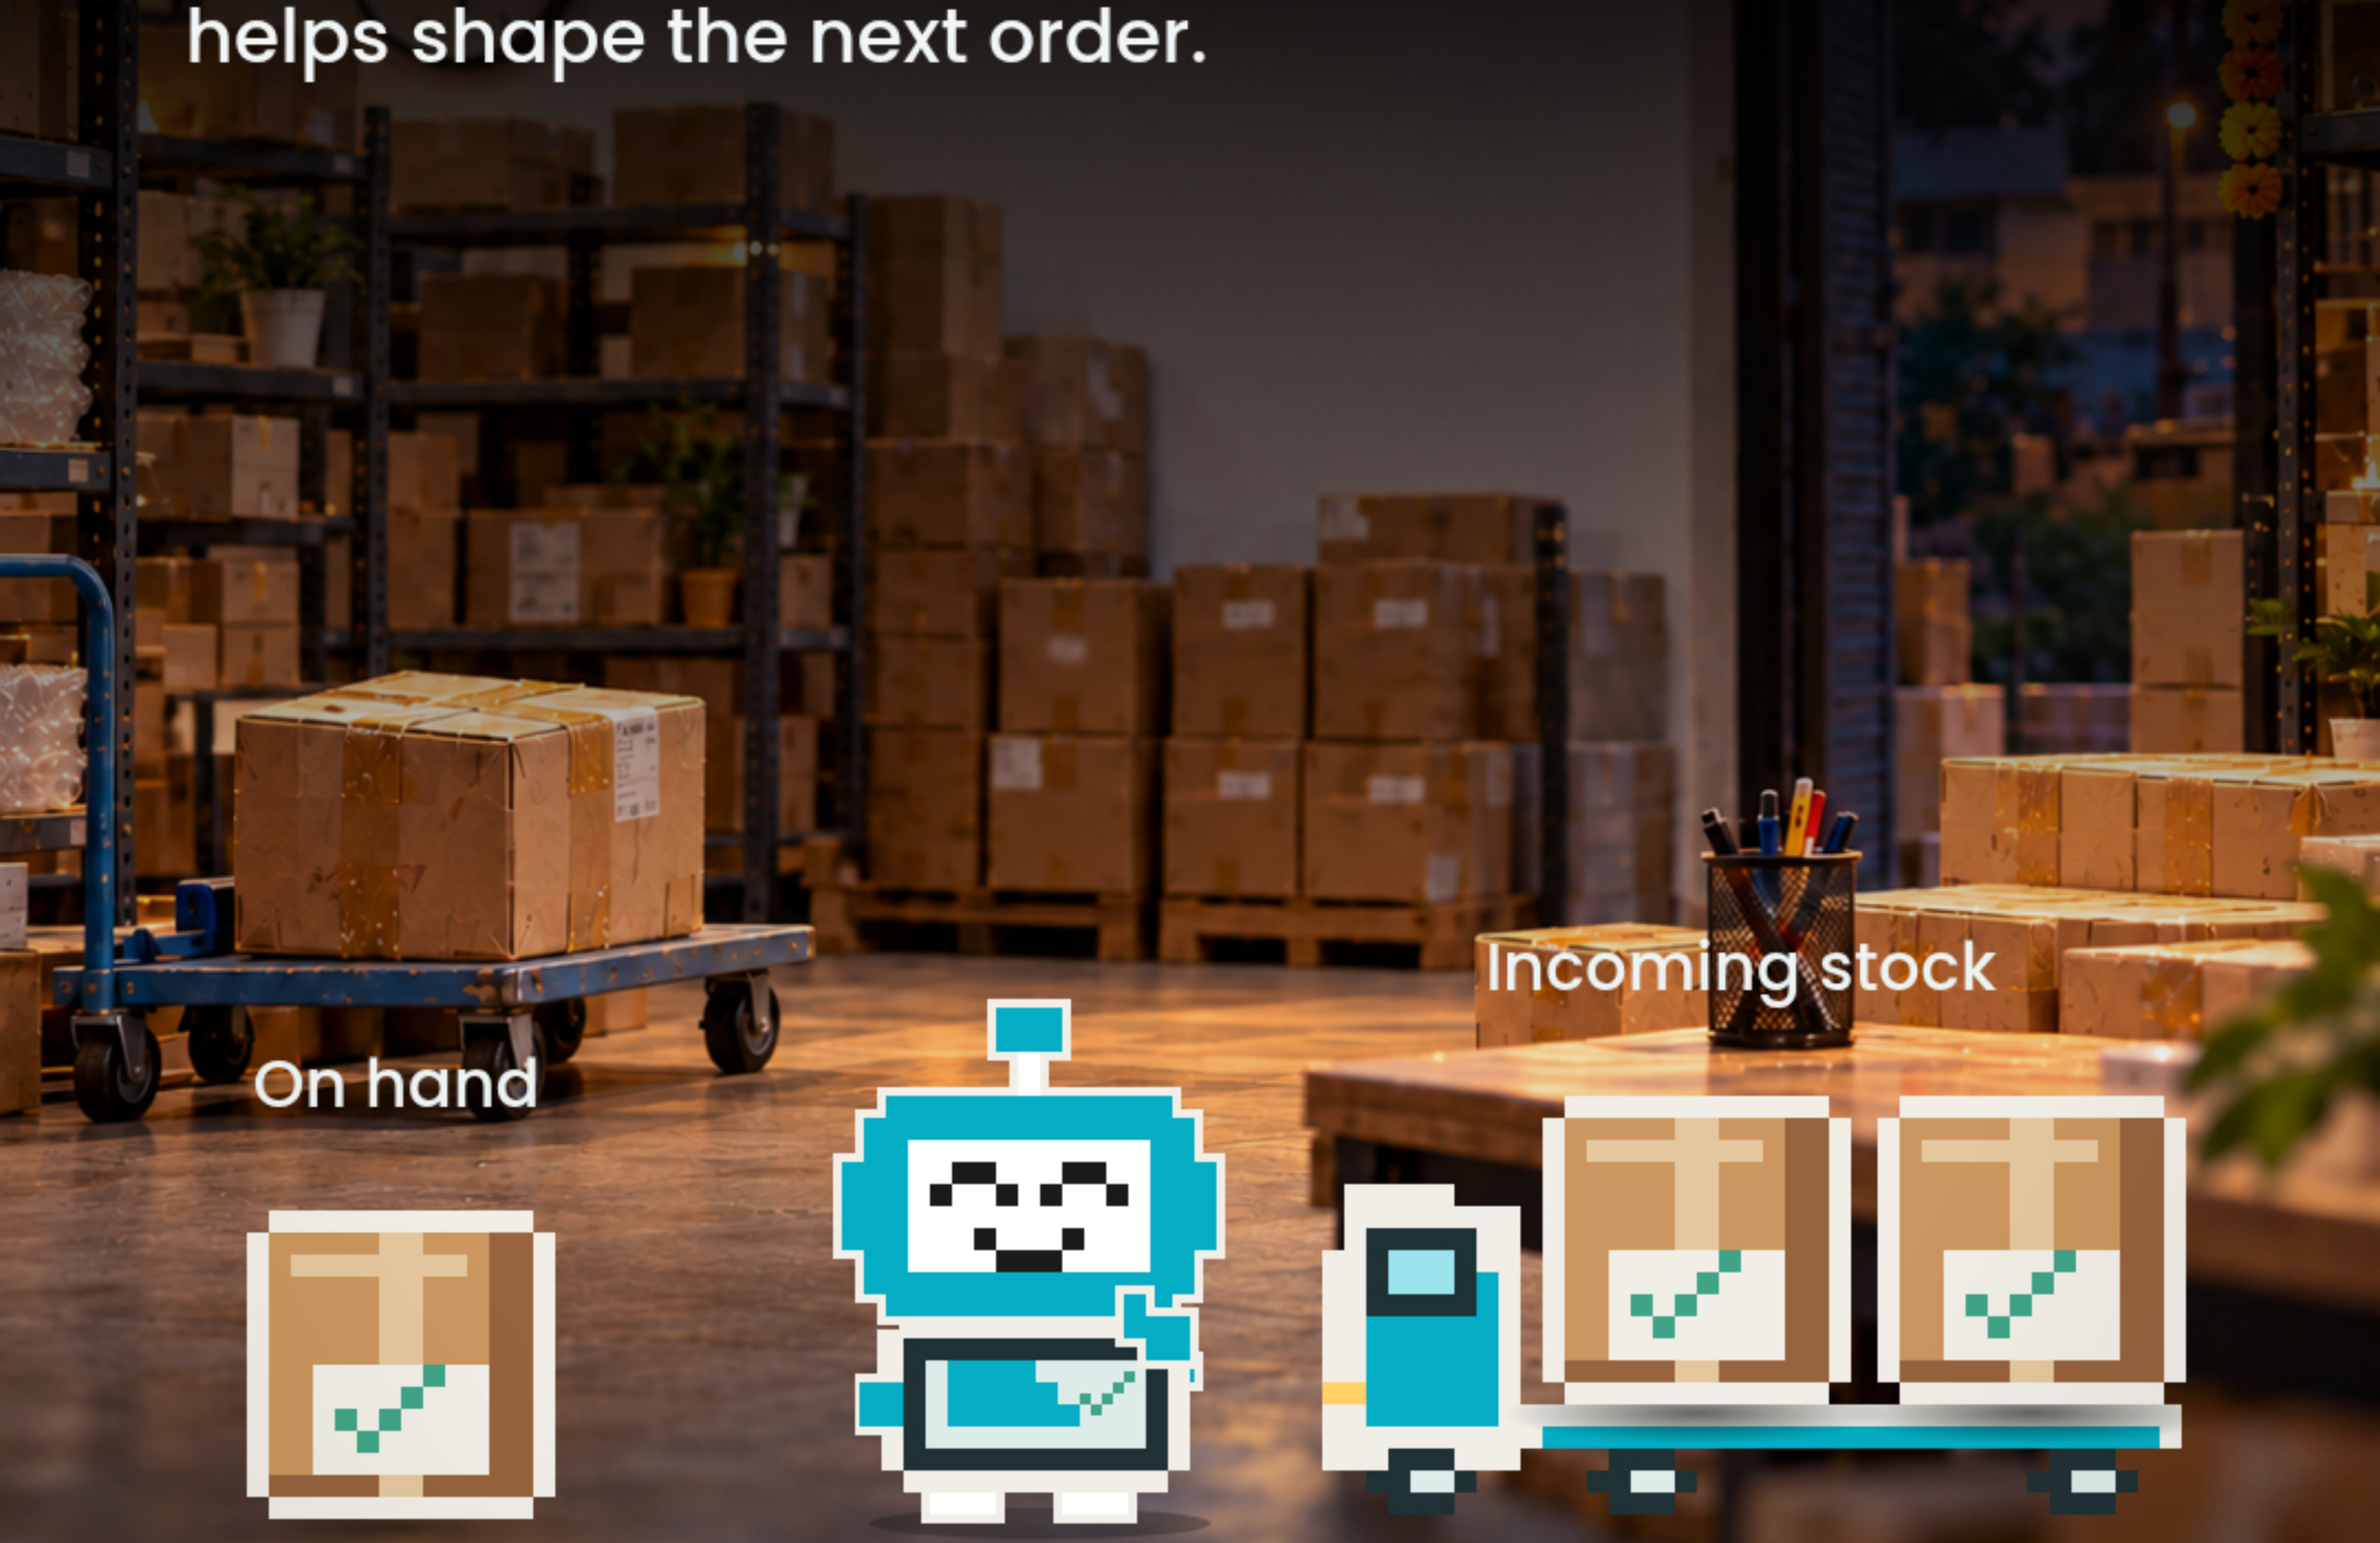

Your stock rules trigger the next step.
When stock hits your reorder point,
ART starts the check.

Stock is below your reorder point.

Check first. Reorder what's needed.

ART checks stock and incoming orders.
What's already on the way
helps shape the next order.

ART calculates how much stock to reorder.

Your limit.
Two clear paths.

Example approval limit: ₹1,00,000

Within your amount limit

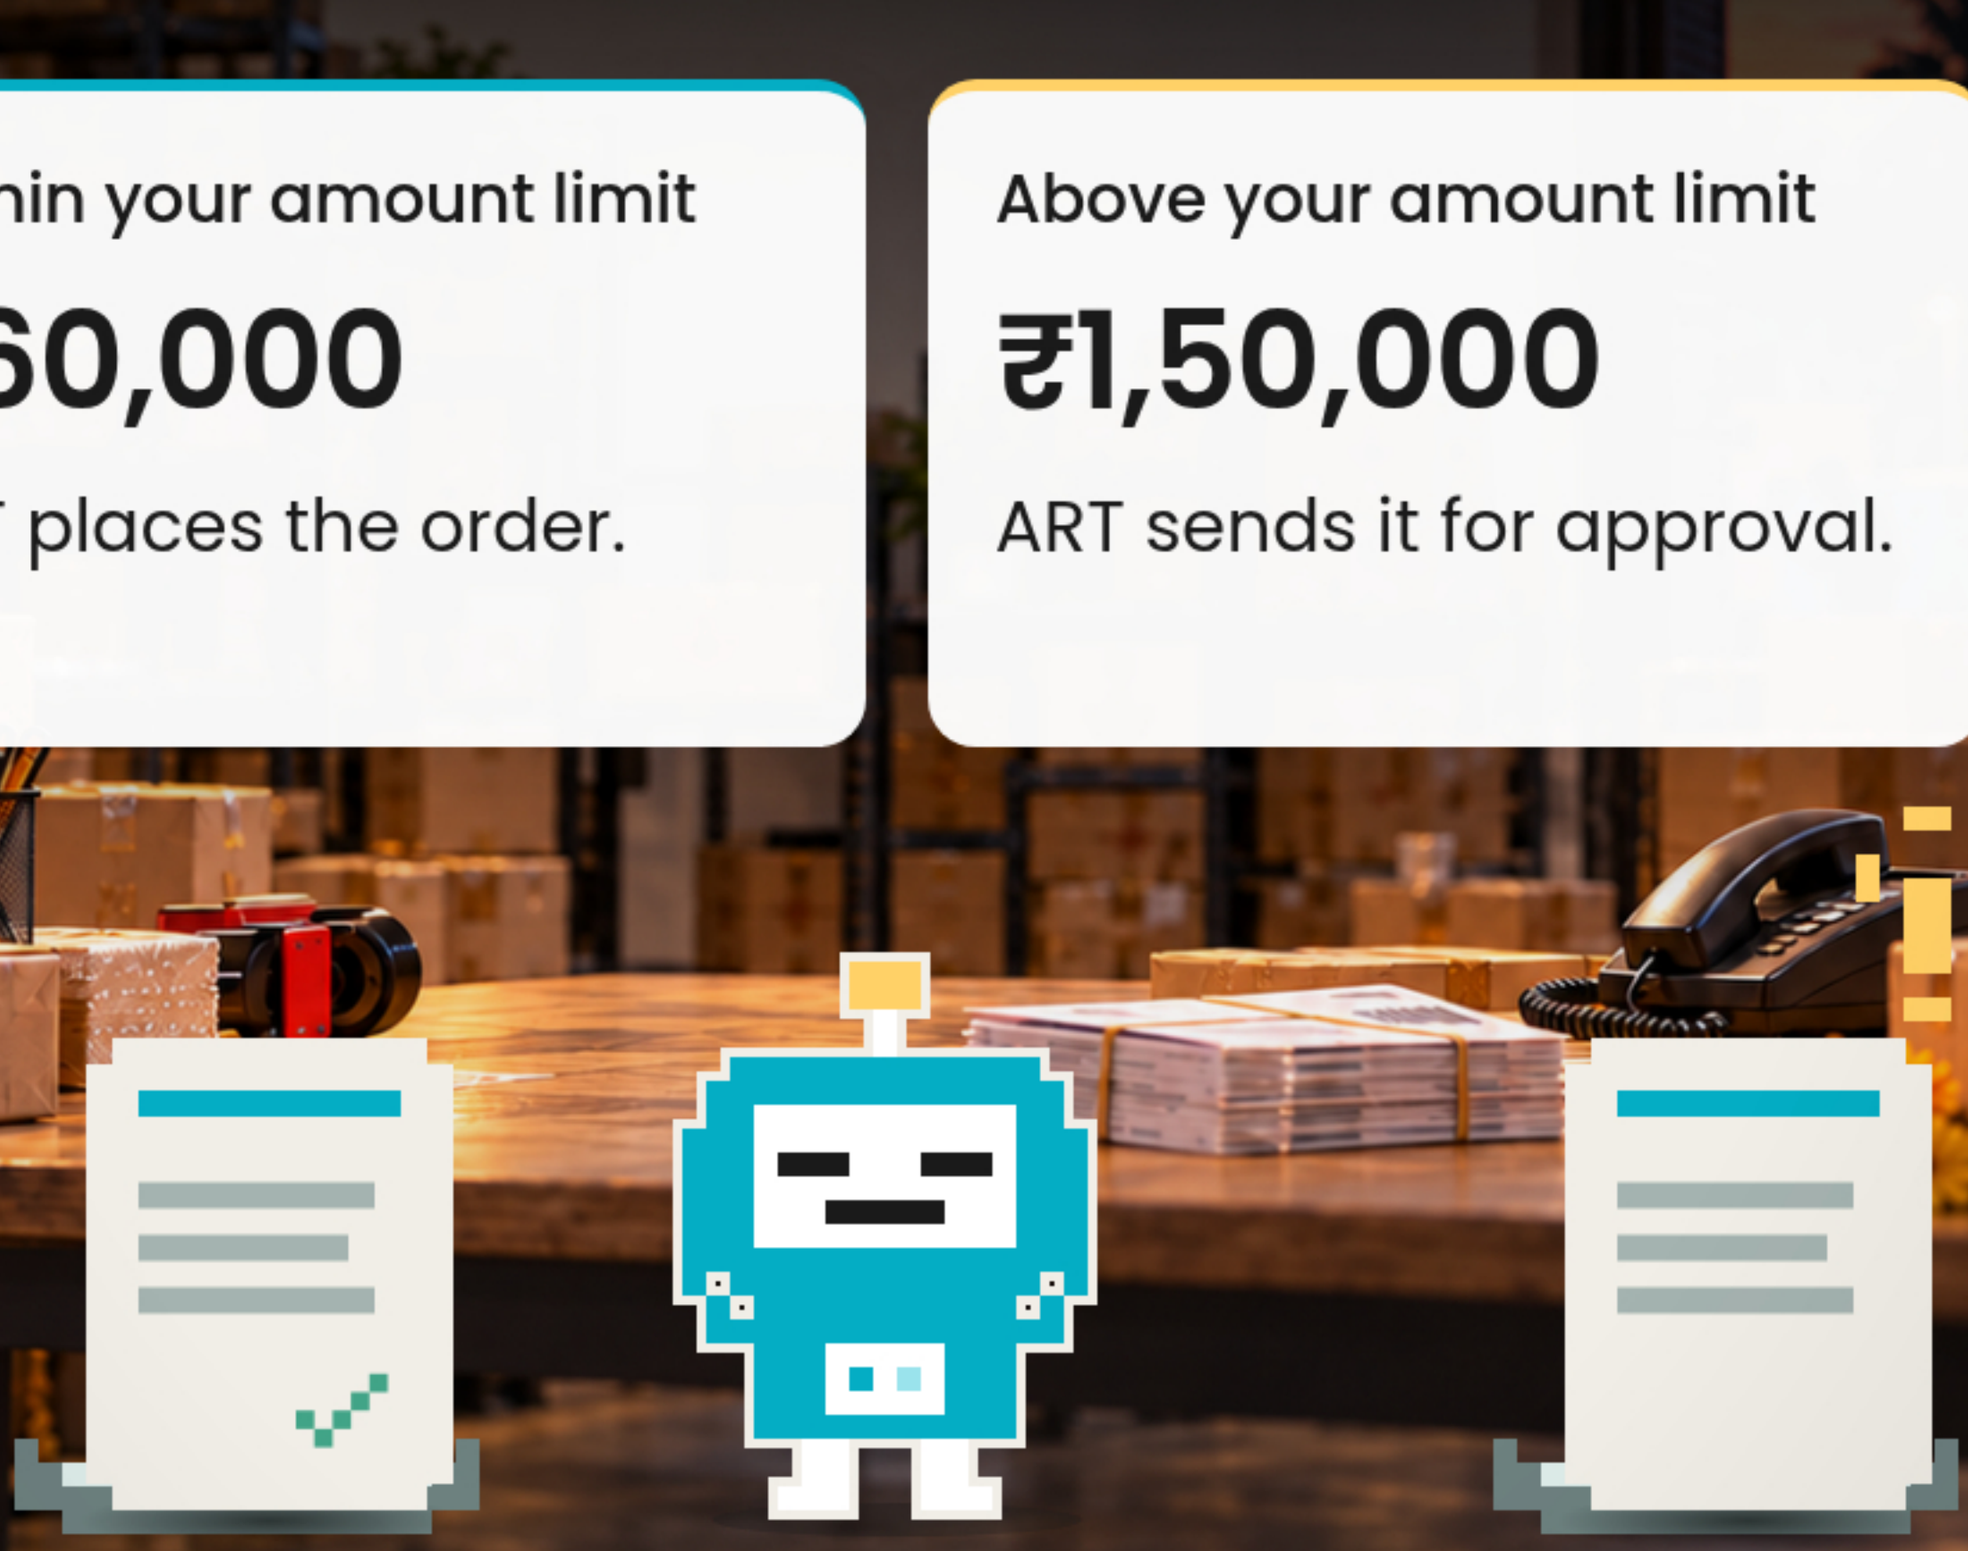

₹60,000
